Arrested for Embezzlement.

M. H. Johnson, colored, who has been filling A. L. Reid's place as tailor for The Globe was arrested Tuesday by Deputy Sheriff W. E. Williams, of Orange County, on a charge of embezzlement and was taken away by the deputy sheriff on the afternoon train. The specific charge is taking money at various times on a suit of clothes which the buyer never received. Johnson however claims, with considerable show of truth, that the clothes were made for complainant and that two payments were made on them, for which he gave his receipt, that he then heard no more from the purchaser for over sixty days, and that the clothes were then sold as is customary.

Johnson was released on bail and is again back at work.

Will Burn Coal.

A spur was recently run in from the F. E. C. Railway to the rear of the Electric Light Plant and on this track the management is having extensive sheds constructed to cover large bins for the storage of coal, it being the intention to supplement wood with coal as fuel the present season and thereafter use coal exclusively.

The plant consumes an enormous quantity of wood, in the winter averaging fifteen cords per day and in the summer season between four and five cords, and Supt. E. L. Gunn says it is becoming more and more difficult to secure the requisite amount as needed. In order to avoid any shortage of fuel during the busy season they are laying in a large supply of coal, 600 tons, though just at present this also is slow work, owing to a scarcity of cars to transport it.

Old Firm Dissolves.

The firm of Peck & Foster, which has done business in Daytona for the past sixteen years, has dissolved partnership by mutual consent. W. H. Peck, retiring. Peck & Foster commenced sixteen years ago in the grocery business. Four years ago they branched out into the clothing business and about a year ago they sold out their grocery department to the Miller-Strohm Co., retaining their clothing store. Last summer they put up the elegant brick store they are now occupying.

Mr. Peck, who retired from the firm Monday, has no definite plans for the future. He will remain in Daytona, at least for the winter, and decide between now and spring what his future plans will be. It is hoped, however, that he will decide to again embark in business here.

B. Foster, who retains the store, will organize a stock company, taking in his son Earl Foster, who has been with the Miller-Strohm Co. the past year. Mr. Foster is on old resident of Daytona and enjoys the esteem and confidence of all. The new company should be a strong one.

Wedding Bells.

A very pretty wedding occurred Sunday morning about ten o'clock when Miss Miriam N. Roberts was united in marriage to J. O. Wallace, of Savannah, Ga., at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Roberts, Sr., in North Daytona.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. H. Rutter, pastor of the M. E. Church, assisted by Rev. E. C. Hudson, of the Kingston Church, and the bride was given away by her father.

Miss Frances Shelton, of Bartow, a cousin of the bride, played the wedding march and her little nieces, Lillian and Lucile Roberts, acted as flower girls.

The rooms were tastefully decorated for the occasion with a profusion of flowers.

A bounteous wedding feast was enjoyed by the assembled company, and after a drive about the city and vicinity, this being Mr. Wallace's first visit to Daytona, the bridal couple departed on the afternoon train for Savannah, where Mr. Wallace is a sergeant of police, and where they will make their home.

There were a great many guests, as the family is a large one and well known throughout this section. All the relatives of the bride in this locality were present and two of her brothers, Carl T. and W. H. Roberts, the first from Alachua and the latter from Cocoa, as was also the family of F. S. Roberts' Jr., and Miss Taylor, from Largo.

The bride has a host of friends here who wish the young couple a long life of wedded happiness.
